Sponsored by Airservices Australia

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

Australian Women Pilots' Association, through the sponsorship of Airservices Australia, is offering four Flight Training Scholarships up to the value of $8,000 each to women who wish to pursue careers in aviation as pilots. The funds are to assist with flight training costs associated with gaining any stage of flying proficiency in either fixed wing or rotary aircraft from the early stages of training through to Commercial Pilot Licence. Applicants must be training with a Part 141 or 142 flying school.

There are two categories of scholarship with two scholarships available in each category:

Category 1 is open to student pilots who have reached their first solo flight.

Category 2 have logged at least 5 hours cross country flight as PIC in their training enroute to CPL.

BACKGROUND

Airservices Australia is the national air traffic control organisation and a global leader responsible for the provision of air navigation services. It has a responsibility under the Airservices Act 1995 to 'Foster and Promote Aviation'.

Airservices Australia believes it is in the long term interests of the aviation industry to assist young people to pursue a career in aviation. To this end, it has donated funds to provide four scholarships that will be awarded on merit to successful female applicants, and each scholarship is to assist with the flight training costs of the successful candidate.

Australian Women Pilots' Association (AWPA) is a national representative body of women pilots. Its objectives include the encouragement and advancement of women pilots in career and recreational pursuits in aviation. Each scholarship provides one woman with the opportunity to advance her flying career. AWPA is particularly appreciative of the opportunities this sponsorship by Airservices Australia provides.

Women wishing to apply must use the official application form and ensure they meet the following criteria and understand the conditions of the award should they be successful.

The winners will be announced by Airservices Australia at the AWPA Conference Presentation Dinner on 2nd April, 2022 in Hobart, TAS.
